Enough laws to tackle pollution, what's lacking is political will, say experts

ESHAROY

NEW DELHI, OCTOBER 31 IN 1985, social activist and lawyer

M C Mehta filed a writ petition in the Supreme Court seeking the closure of Shriram Industries, which was operating in the densely populated Kirti Nagar area of Delhi and was manufacturing hazardous substances.

MC Mehta vs Union of India would go on to become a landmark environmental case and, over the coming decades, the basis for a slew of orders to check air and water pollution - including the setting up of the EPCA or the Pollution Environment (Prevention and Control) Authority for Delhi-NCR.

With the Centre now bringing in a new ordinance for the setting up of a Commission for Air Quality Management in the National Capital Region and Adjoining Areas, a body that will see the EPCA getting dissolved, Mehta says the battle against air pollution lacks not laws or committees, but political will.

"If there was political will, then there are enough laws - the Environment Protection Act, 1986, and other laws, when enforced, can get the job done. The problem

Navroz Dubash, professor, Centre for Policy Research, reiterates Mehta's stance. "There should be a well-designed executive body with defined public space within it representing all sectors, because the problem of pollution is multi-sectoral. The intent of the Commission is off-kilter..." says Dubash.

however, points to fundamental $differences\,between\,the\,EPCA\,and$ the new Commission. Additional Secretary Ravi Aggarwal says, "The Commission, unlike the EPCA, has the power to appoint officers and IGs of different states are also members - which is what you need for effective implementation." FPCA chairman Bhure Lal as well as member Sunita Narain did not comment on the matter.

The Environment Ministry,

Modi to IAS probationers: Stay away from publicity

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE VADODARA, OCTOBER 31

PRIME MINISTER Narendra Modi. on Saturday, addressed a gathering of probationary civil services officers of the Lal Bahadur Shastri Academy of Administration (LB-SNAA) in Musoorie via a video conference from the exhibition hall of the Statue of Unity as part of the second edition of Aarambh training initiated for the probationary officers since last year.

Modi handed out an exercise to the officers, who could not visit Kevadia this year due to the ongoing Covid-19 restrictions, asking them to prepare a list of items of their personal use and check for foreign brand of products. Urging them to take it as a "personal challenge", Modi asked the aspiring officers to check if they could substitute foreign brands with Made in India products to push the "Vocal for Local" campaign initiated by the govern-

Laying emphasis on the upcoming quarter of the century of India's independence, Modi told the probationary officers that their decisions for their allotted jurisdictions should be in the larger interest of the nation . He invoked the words of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel and said that Patel, who addressed the first ever batch of the civil services in India in April 1947, had referred to the bureaucracy as a "steel

Modi said, "Whatever be the frame, it cannot function without sound principles. So write down your own thoughts and goals in your diary and use it when you take up your responsibilities..."

Stating that he has directed elected representatives of the BIF to maintain a low profile in media, Modi said, "Media and social media will distract and lure you. But there is a difference in being in the media for good work and in doing work only to be in the media. You must follow role models who worked anonymously for the country with much discipline. There have been many bureaucrats before you who have left behind a legacy of good work but no one even knows about them...

SpiceJet gets 3,000 bookings for seaplane service

Ahmedabad: SpiceJet has received 3,000 bookings for the seaplane service connecting Sabarmati riverfront and Statue of Unity in Gujarat, said CMD of the airlines, Ajay Singh on Saturday, when Prime Minister Narendra Modi inaugurated the country's first seaplane route.

"We will be trying to connect Statue of Unity with other cities. Our first attempt will be to connect Surat. The existing (one-way) fares will be between Rs 1500-5000..." he added.

According to Singh, only 30 per cent of the seats will be priced at Rs 1500 under the UDAN

WRITEBACK

RESPONDING TO two reports in The Indian Express 'Overruling own decisions, Baghel govt spares Tatas Rs 200 cr penalty' on October 29 and 'Spared by Govt, Tatas got vendor word on penalty too' on October 30, Chhattisgarh Infotech Promotion Society (CHiPS), the state's nodal agency to monitor IT projects, wrote back in two separate rejoinders stating these reports were factually incorrect, misleading and erroneous.

In both the reports, The Indian Express had sought and incorporated comments from the current CHiPS CEO Sameer Vishnoi. In the October 29 report, Vishnoi is quoted as saying the money shown as penalty was only being stopped and not deducted. "I stopped that so that we can restart the penalty procedure. Earlier, procedure was not followed," he had said.

The key issues raised by CHiPS and the response by our Correspondent are be-

CHiPS: The line "This penalty was as per terms of the agreement between the company and the state and its imposition was a decision ratified by a Chief Secretary led committee" is misleading and erroneous.

Our Correspondent: The penalty mentioned was levied and conveyed in a February 23, 2019, letter by then CHIPS CEO KC Devasenapathi to Tata Projects Ltd. It was discussed State

Implementation Committee meetings of June 7, 2019, and October Representatives of USOF and BBNL agreed to the mode of payment. The SLIC agreed to the penalty amount, but left it to CHiPS to take a final call on the mode of payment. On January 9, 2020, then CEO Devasenapathi confirmed the mode of recovery as deduction of 12 per cent from each Projects. CHiPS: There is no order passed from current CEO of CHiPS, Shri Sameer Vishnoi to set aside the penalty proposed to be levied upon the contractor. Correspondent:

According to then CHiPS CEO

of the amount due to Tata

KC Devasenapathi's January 9, 2020, letter to Tata Projects, 12% deduction on payable amount from every invoice raised by MSI" was decided as the mode of recovery of penalty. This penalty was deemed as "proposed penalty" by current CEO . Sameer Vishnoi in his August 13, 2020, letter to the Third Party Auditor, Feedback Infra Pvt Ltd. The letter says, "With regards to withholding of 12% penalty on each of the payment... CHiPS would like to inform that final decision on imposition of penalty is pending at the appropriate authority, due to which all further payment to MSI may be proposed without withholding any amount against the proposed penalty.'

CHiPS: Current CEO Sameer Vishnoi has started formal procedure of imposing a proposed penalty of 12% of the project cost on contractor M/s Tata projects Ltd. The showcause notice to Tata Projects had already been issued on August 29, 2020.

Our Correspondent: Three show cause notices were sent from CHiPS to Tata Projects within the first six months till November 2018, after which the first penalty was levied on November 03, 2018. The penalty was increased to the maximum 12% of capital expenditure on February 23, 2019. Hence, the August 29, 2020, letter by current CEO CHiPS as a show-cause notice, is just repeating the whole procedure all over again.

CHiPS: CHiPS has hold of Performance Bank Guarantee (PBG) of Rs 167 crore and also Additional Bank Guarantee (ABG) of Rs 165 crore. This totals Rs 332 crore which can be revoked at any point of time. This is much higher than the proposed penalty of around Rs 200 crore.

Our Correspondent: It is standard practice in every contract to seek security in terms of PBG. The amounts held as PBG and the Additional Bank Guarantee are returned to MSI after the project goes live. Penalty was levied for not meeting the milestones as agreed to by Tata Projects Ltd, and CHiPS, as the nodal agency, had decided to realise it by withholding 12% from amounts payable to Tata Projects based on the invoice raised by the every time your bots spot a #Pistol in my posts. I thought my account got white listed the last time... But it has happened again!"

What the 31-year-old with 171K followers on Instagram had inadvertently done was go against Facebook's -- which owns Instagram -- advertisement poling the brandishing of firearms". Which meant that if Sidhu had simply uploaded a photograph of icy which prohibits "ads promotherself at the range, that would have been above board, but the reason her post fell foul of the social media giant's policies was that it was an "ad".

The content in question shows firearms, which is prohibited as per our advertising policies," a Facebook company spokesperson told The Indian Express. "Ads must not promote the sale or use of weapons, ammunition or explosives." Her account, however, was restored without restrictions earlier this week following discussions between her manager and representatives of the social media company. "Because they can see me with a pistol and they can see me shoot, they have blocked me on Twitter on October 18. "I think you can show the pistol, but you can't show firing a shot. That's probably the thing triggering the bots (that monitor posts). It gets very embarrassing because you have these paid partnerships, and now you can't put from putting a caption under any new post. So I can't do any promotional work again," Sidhu told this paper just after she complained anything up," Sidhu had said. The post, which can still be viewed on her feed, was not taken down because it did not go against Facebook's Community Standards, the Facebook spokesperson said. Posting information that depicts or incites violence, compromises safety, plagiarism and fraud constitutes breaking Community Standards.

US divide Pennsylvania with it, which hadn't voted Red since 1988.

Indeed, in this state with its 20 electoral college votes - either side needs 270 to win – Biden is ahead, as of weekend polls, by an average of 5.5 percentage points, lower than his 8.8-point national lead.

For Boujard, that doesn't make things any clearer. "I'm still in that same boat as last time," said Boujard, who didn't vote in 2016. Both campaigns are heavily courting non-voters. More than 3.5 million eligible voters in Pennsylvania didn't send in a 2016 ballot, and Trump won the state by 44,292 votes. After living in Northampton County's Bethleham city for seven years. Boujard is also weighing the dying economies he sees around him, "I live in Pennsylvania, I understand manufacturing and coal and those jobs. White people have been dying from an opioid drug crisis. That's what they bring in here when they get rid of these industries." Bethlehem, known as Steel City, is emblematic of the American manufacturing decline. The Bethlehem Steel Company, a military supplier in World War II, abandoned the city by the 1980s.

Smoke still billows out of the towering steel stacks in the town, but now the furnace houses a casino instead. Like much of America, the region attempted to diversify its economy, introducing warehouse and technology companies, as well as new residents.

In 2016, the Trump heartland encompassed the rural white, working-class voting bloc in small towns like these. It's no coincidence that nearly all the states that flipped from Obama to Trump make up the "Rust Belt" in the MidWest.

"From our polling, for every 100 white working-class voters in Pennsylvania, 65 are going to vote for Trump. Now the party is saying we will raise this number. That's why Trump is going to more rural counties," said Christopher Nicholas, a veteran Republican strategist in the state. Nationally, seven out of 10 white voters voted for Trump in 2016, according to the Cooperative Congressional Election Study.

"These post-industrial communities were sold a false set of goods," said Executive Director of Pennsylvania Democratic Party, Jason Henry. "We understand that they have been left behind in a lot of ways and we are here to fight for them."

These voters used to be core to Pennsylvania's Democratic base, aligned in their support of trade unions. The bloc has since then veered right, partly because of leftleaning trade and environmental agendas. Fracking, a process to remove natural gas from deep-rock, has been a boon to the state but has fallen under environmental criticism. Recently, Trump accused Biden of wanting to ban the practice, to which Biden has had to formally deny.

पत्रकारिता के लिए भाषा और विषय दोनों का ज्ञान जरूरी : प्रो. के.जी.सुरेश

जयपुर। प्रेस यानी प्रिंट मीडिया ने अपना काम बखूबी किया है, उसमें विश्वसनीयता देखने को मिलती है, लेकिन जब से प्रेस, मीडिया बना है, उसमें कुछ तब्दीलियां आयी हैं। देश के ज्यादातर अंग्रेजी और हिंदी समाचार पत्रों में सेल्फआइडेंटिटी की कमी है। यह बात जगदीश उपासने, चेयरमैन, प्रसार भारती, रिक्रूटमेंट बोर्ड का. ने मणिपाल विश्वविद्यालय, जयपुर में आयोजित लीडरशिप वेबिनार सीरीज के तहत 'पत्रकारिता-चुनौतियां और अवसर' विषय पर संबोधित कर रहे थे। कार्यक्रम का मॉडरेशन प्रोफेसर अमिताभ श्रीवास्तव, डायरेक्टर, पत्रकारिता एवं जन संचार विभाग ने किया। प्रो. शिवाप्रसाद एच सी. डायरेक्टर, स्कूल ऑफ ऑटोमोबाइल एंड मेक्ट्रोनिक्स ने अतिथियों का स्वागत किया और उन्हें यूनिवर्सिटी के बारे में अवगत कराया। उपासने का कहना था कि देश के ज्यादातर अंग्रेजी और हिंदी समाचार पत्रों में सेल्फआइडेंटिटी की कमी है। हम वेस्टर्न थॉट की ही 'रॉक्स कॉपी हैं' उन्होंने कहा कि एक समय था जब संपादक समाचार मालिक की पालिसी से इतर होते हुए भी खबर प्रकाशित करता था, लेकिन अब ऐसा नहीं है। उन्होंने इस बात पर भी जोर दिया कि डिजिटल पोर्टल चलाना आज भी घाटे का सौदा है। भले ही लोग कंटेंट देख रहे रहे हैं लेकिन उसे मोनेटाइज कर पाना आज भी एक चुनौती है। उन्होंने स्टूडेंट्स को सम्बोधित करते हुए कहा कि कंटेंट की मांग हमेशा बनी रहेगी। जिसमें कंटेंट समझने का हुनर हो, उसे जॉब की कोई दिक्कत नहीं है. पर जरूरत है कि आप में बिजनेस माइंड भी हो. संस्कृतियों के बीच में संवाद से जुड़े एक सवाल पर उपासने का कहना था कि आज जरूरत है कि संचार के सभी पहलुओं को पाठ्यक्रम में शामिल किया जाये। डोमेन एक्सपरटीज की देश में बहुत कमी है, अगर डोमन एक्सपदर्स हम तैयार कर लें तो, उन्हें कम्युनिकेट करना उतना मुश्किल

जीवन की राहें टेढ़ी-मेढ़ी होनी चाहिए, क्योंकि सीधी सपाट रोड पर आगदमी बिंदास होकर चलता है जबिक कर्व (मोड़) उसे सावधान कर देते हैं। सजग रहने वाला कहीं ठुकराया नहीं जाता, ठोकर नहीं खाता। हकीकत में जीवन की परिभाषा सतत् जागरण है। सजगता में अघटित घटित नहीं होता। वो अपने लक्ष्य की मीनार पर चढ़ जाता। प्रभू महावीर ने होश और हौंसले से परिषह और उपसर्गों के कई घाट जागरण से पार किए और मंजिल के मालिक बने। बांसुरी को देखिए सीधी थी ना, तो सीने पर जख्म झेलकर किसी के होठों से लग सकी। हीरे के कितने आड़े टेढ़े कोण हुए तब वो सुहागिन के सिर पर शोभित हो पाया। सीधी लकड़ी तो बेचारी कोने में पड़ी रहती है या कुत्ते के डराने में काम भले ही आओ। लेकिन जीवन का सीधापन इन टेढ़ी-मेढ़ी राहों को भी पार लगा देगा। इसे हमेशा याद रखना। गौतम सीधे थे गौशालक टेड़ा। आज गौतम मंगल के रूप में सम्मानित किये जाते हें गौशालक कोई अपने बच्चे का नाम भी रखना पसन्द नहीं करते।
